

What is the Educational Savings Account (ESA) program, and Should you consider it for your child?

Hear Dr. Brian Ray explore these questions as he talks about the concept of state-run “education at home” programs that foot the bill to “help” you educate your children. Is this legal option the same as homeschooling, and how does it compare to other educational options? Dr. Ray will challenge you to consider the importance of who has authority over what is taught to the minds and hearts of your children.

Special to Nevada parents, Dr. Ray will combine items from three of his seminar sessions, “Are You About to be Co-Opted?”, “When a Free Lunch Isn’t Free”, and “What Makes You Think You Can Teach Your Own?” Are we being superior, or inadequate, if we don’t teach our children the same values and curriculum as the state institutions?

Dr. Ray is convinced that these are some of the most urgent issues that homeschoolers will grapple with during the next several years.

Separating School and State

Sponsored by Nevada Homeschool Network (NHN) and National Home Education Research Institute (NHERI)

DATE: Thursday, November 19, 2015
TIME: 7:00-9:00 pm
PLACE: The Plaza Hotel, 801 S. Carson St.
Main Building, upstairs
COST: Free, donations accepted

Space is Limited! RSVP required at NNHS.org or directly to Kelley@radow.net

Because space is limited, and presentation content is geared toward adults, we respectfully request that children not attend.

Brian D. Ray, Ph.D. founded the National Home Education Research Institute (NHERI) as a 501(c) 3 non-profit research organization and is president of the institute. He holds his Ph.D. in science education from Oregon State University, his M.S. in zoology from Ohio University, and his B.S. in biology from the University of Puget Sound. He is a leading international expert with regard to homeschool (home school, home education) research. Dr. Ray executes and publishes research, speaks to the public, testifies before legislators, and serves as an expert witness in courts.

Be Challenged – Be Educated – Be Encouraged